We've finally had a moment to catch our breath and bring you up to speed on all things meatloaf after an incredibly hectic end of winter. Our Groupon, which sold an outstanding 3,100 deals, took its final bow just before Valentine's Day, and Grouponers were definitely declaring their love. Lines were out the door, food was flying out of the case, even orders were taken those last few days to keep up with everyone's appetite.

We'd just like to take a moment to send our sincerest thanks to all of our customers, Grouponers or not, for being patient with us as we took on what was easily our busiest week ever in The Meatloaf Bakery history.

Even though our Groupon is over, there are deals to be had. Don't forget to come on back and become one of our Frequent Loafers! Pick up some of our delicious meatloaf treats and for every cupcake you buy, get a stamp on your Loafer card. Once you have a dozen stamps, the 13th cupcake is on us.

And on another nifty note, many of our customers have asked about the nutritional information of our meatloaf creations. If you would like to make our meatloaf part of your balanced diet, we can provide the facts you need. Ask any team meatloaf member to see the complete nutritional information on many of our items.
